NOTICE - FAQ

RE: Transition from William C. Miller, interim trustee, to Scott F. Waterman, Standing Chapter 13 Trustee, effective 1/7/2019.

1. Who is now the standing trustee in Reading?

Scott F. Waterman is Standing Chapter 13 Trustee, overseeing the Reading office, and the cases in the EDPA assigned to Judges Fehling and FitzSimon, effective 1/7/2019.

2. Who is the standing trustee in Philadelphia?

William C. Miller continues in that role, overseeing the Philadelphia office, and the cases in the EDPA assigned to Judges Chan, Coleman and Frank.

3. What about payments I have made to Frederick Reigle or William C. Miller, Interim Trustee, for the Reading Office?

Suntrust Bank is the banking entity used by the Reading office. It will continue to honor money orders and other guaranteed funds made payable to Frederick Reigle and William C. Miller, Interim Trustee. If you make your payments through the epay online payment method you may continue making them as before, they will still credit to your case.

4. Should I continue to make my payments to Frederick Reigle?

No. Going forward, please make payments payable to Scott F. Waterman, Trustee. The Reading office lockbox remains the same – PO Box 680, Memphis, TN 38101-0680.

5. How will Reading office cases be reflected on the ECF court filing system – Pacer?

Cases assigned to Judges Fehling and FitzSimon, which were and are assigned to the Reading office, will be reassigned to Scott F. Waterman, standing trustee, with the Reading office contact information.

6. How will this change affect court lists?

There should be no change. Staff attorneys Polly Langdon and Rolando Ramos will continue to conduct 341 meetings and court lists for Judges Fehling and FitzSimon cases. Any questions about those lists should be referred to the Reading office staff.

7. Who should I contact regarding Reading office matters?

Contact information for the Reading office remains the same. For general questions, Ann Marie Engle, Comptroller, can be reached at 610-779-1313, ext. 235, and Barbara Flannery, Office Manager, can be reached at ext. 245.

8. What does it mean when I see Fred Reigle's name or William C. Miller's name on the website, stationary or other materials?

Fred was the trustee for over 30 years. It will take a while until we find and replace his name in a number of places. Going forward, and to prepare for the replacement standing trustee, we will be using the designation – Standing Chapter 13 Trustee – Reading. The email designation and website have been changed to www.ReadingCh13.com and info@ReadingCh13.com.

9. How will I be notified as these changes occur?

Until all of the changes are in place, the website www.ReadingCh13.com and general email address info@ReadingCh13.com are the best options for relaying and receiving information. Any changes that occur going forward will be posted with directions on this site to keep you notified of how and where to get any information of changes in procedure that may affect you.
